

David Ferrell

100% Clean Comedy and Impressions

For over 20 years, comedian and speaker David Ferrell has shown audiences that comedy can be clean and funny!

- Inspirational Comedian of the Year
Three-time nominee by ICM Awards
- As Heard on Sirius XM radio's "Laugh USA"
- Named "Hot Act in America" by Event Solutions Magazine

In addition to his uproarious tales about everyday life, David delights audiences with hilarious impressions of famous cartoon characters, farm animals, Simon Cowell, Darth Vader and many more!

David has performed for numerous Fortune 500 companies such as Proctor & Gamble, IBM and The Gap. He is happy to customize his show with jokes about your company or organization, and always leaves your audience with a positive message.

Event Solutions Magazine named David one of Five Hot Acts burning up the corporate market along with "America's Got Talent" winner Terry Fator, Frank Caliendo, and the legendary Blue Man Group. The Inspirational Country Music Awards nominated David twice for Comedy Act of the Year, alongside Mark Lowry, Dennis Swanberg, Chonda Pierce, and some of the biggest names in clean comedy!

David is a true professional who delivers laughs without offending anyone. He is willing to take his God-given talents anywhere that is willing to have a clean, positive and funny event!

"David was flawless. It was a slam dunk as far as we were concerned. I really could not have been more pleased. He was perfect!"

– Jeanne Preisler, NC Division of Social Services

"I couldn't have asked for a nicer, more professional presenter than David. He was delightful to work with, and the comedy was appropriate, funny, and heartwarming."

– Meg Economy, Events Associates

"What a show. We had a international group (Austrian, German, American) and David pulled it all together. Clean and funny — what more could we ask for?"

– Victor Phillips, Greiner Bio-one

What Clients Are Saying...

"David was flawless. It was a slam dunk as far as we were concerned. I really could not have been more pleased. Thank you so much. He was perfect!"

– Jeanne Preisler, NC Division of Social Services

"David did exactly what I had hoped he would do for us...and under very demanding circumstances ("Be funny, now!") He made every precious moment on stage count, much to the delight (and relief!) of the audience to help make an ordinary business meeting anything but ordinary. David's definitely "on my list" when we desperately need a light-hearted moment!"

– Steven Mathena, Event Producer, Jackson-Dawson Marketing Specialists

"I couldn't have asked for a nicer, more professional presenter than David. He was delightful to work with, and the comedy was appropriate, funny, and heartwarming. Our clients were hospital professionals, so the focus had to be clean and very positive. The response was overwhelming and very positive - just what I had hoped."

– Meg Economy, President, Events Associates

"David Ferrell was an excellent choice as after dinner entertainer at our annual awards banquet. He was very funny and tasteful. The way he involved our employees in his act insured laughter, applause and an audience clamoring for more."

– Kevin Korner, Director of Human Resources, Central Mississippi Medical Center

"David is a wonderful comedian and kept us all laughing at the Decatur County Habitat for Humanity Show. Our audience consisted of children from around 10 years of age to adults in their 80's and he kept us all entertained. You will not be disappointed if you use him for your next event."

– Darla Horner, Decatur County Habitat for Humanity

"The audience loved David. The show participants were filled with laughter and smiles. You could hear people saying 'He's really good!'"

– Marcia Jeske, City of North Muskegon

"David did a wonderful, exciting program for our annual Christmas Party. We wanted something different for this year's party and David was just what we needed - lots of humor. Thank you David!"

– Theresa Baksa, Fluor Enterprises

"The crowd loved David. He was very easy to work with and extremely friendly. He made sure everyone enjoyed the show and really went the extra mile to ensure a great show. We would definitely have him back, and would absolutely recommend David Ferrell to anyone in need of a excellent comedic performance."

– Lisa Funderburk, Langer Associates, Inc.

"David was very engaging, accommodating, and closed out his performance with some surprising motivational comments that we had not expected. I know our employees can be a tough audience, but he pulled them into his performance and had them all laughing."

– Michael Hawn, Murphy Brown, LLC

"It was indeed a pleasure to have David with us at our staff training day. He was everything we had hoped for - clean, funny, and inspiring! I have heard many wonderful comments from our employees already, thanking us for bringing him to the meeting. Normally full day staff meetings even under the best circumstances can drag on and get tedious. Having David come in after our lunch break refreshed everyone and helped us keep the afternoon sessions lively."

– Bart Holloman, Holloman Child Development

"We all really enjoyed David, I received so many positive comments and we will definitely use him for future events. Thanks so much for making this such a successful event!"

– Jamie Hays, Roanoke Valley Apartment Association

"Our Night of Laughter fundraiser was a huge success. David Ferrell did a great job drawing the audience into the show. David was both professional and personable. The audience loved him!"

– Margaret Hart, Habitat for Humanity

Getting into the Act

From rock violinists to ventriloquists, find out which entertainers are burning up the corporate circuit today

By Lindsey Getz

Choosing the right entertainment can be one of the best ways to add pizzazz to your next event. “It can be an opportunity for the audience to see headline talent in an up close and personal way and have the feeling that this is a special show,” says Greg Janese, an agent with Paradigm

Talent Agency. “Many times an artist can even customize their show to your specific audience, which gives your client the feeling that it’s a private show just for them.”

“I truly believe the right entertainment can make or break your event,” adds Annie Revel, president of Revel

Productions and a certified special events professional. “It has to be right to fit for the demographic. If you can achieve that, it can set the mood for the entire event.”

Whether they’re dependable crowd pleasers or up-and-coming stars, here are five ways to do just that.

the buzz: This group of 23-year-old Polish triplets is gaining popularity for their impressive violin act featuring music styles ranging from pop to rock classics. While the three sisters — Aleksandra, Izabela and Monika — now call Vegas their home, they are often on the road doing corporate events as well.

insider tip: With their choreographed performances, use of pop songs and the fact that they are triplets, these rising stars offer a fresh twist on standard violinist groups.

the buzz: You may recognize him from “America’s Got Talent” — after all, he did walk away with a cool million as the winning contestant — or more recently, “Oprah”. Terry Fator is a ventriloquist, celebrity impersonist, comedian and singer wrapped into one, and what he’s best known for is combining those talents. He consistently wows audiences with his ability to impersonate great singers through his puppets without moving his mouth — all while carrying a tune.

planner review: “He brings the wow to the entertainment field,” says Ray Gosselin, owner, Epic Entertainment, who recently hired Fator to perform at the closing of the Palm Springs Film Festival and has already booked him again to appear at a private corporate event. “He has such a unique act that it simply can’t be duplicated. Unlike a typical ventriloquist, Terry’s act adds impersonation to the mix. This gives it that once-in-a-lifetime feel. Plus he’s corporate clean and an utmost professional.”

"Two Thumbs Up!"

Blue Man Group

the buzz: Unless you've been living under a rock, you're probably familiar with the blue men who put on a wildly popular theatrical show with elements of music, comedy, multimedia theatrics and a little paint to boot. They've been nothing short of a megahit in Vegas. But what you may not be aware of is that they're now doing corporate events. The addition of BMG at your next corporate gathering is sure to make it one your attendees won't soon forget.

insider tip: The combination of the Blue Man Group's unique entertainment with their willingness and ability to customize their act for any audience will make them an increasingly popular act with corporate groups.

the buzz: If you're looking for clean comedy, David Ferrell is your man. "His performance is 100 percent clean and appropriate, because when you're performing for corporate audiences, you often can't take any chances," says Larry Weaver of Larry Weaver Entertainment. "He keeps the audience involved and can customize his act for each client."

planner review: "We were looking for a low-key, light-hearted approach to comedy," says Meg Economy, president, Events Associates Inc., who has booked Ferrell. "Our clients were hospital professionals, so the focus had to be clean and very positive. The response was overwhelming and very positive — just what I had hoped."

the buzz: With the rise of "Frank TV," Frank Caliendo is quickly becoming a household name, and as a result he's become a blazingly hot act in the corporate world.

Caliendo is famous for his impersonations and does spot-on impressions of everyone from President Bush to John Madden to Al Pacino.

insider tip: Frank is everywhere! It's hard to miss one of his celebrity impressions now that his face is all over TV. Caliendo has not only made himself a star, but is making the act of impersonation more popular than ever.
