Farming is more than a job. It's a way of life. Larry Weaver gets it. His appreciation for agriculture shines through in every keynote. Larry understands the challenges that come with unpredictable weather, shifting markets, and long days. His clean, relatable humor and heartfelt stories offer a welcome break, while delivering encouragement that sticks.

Larry grew up in rural North Carolina, helping out on the farms of relatives and neighbors, picking tobacco, harvesting crops, and tending to livestock. His grandparents were sharecroppers, which led many in his mom's family into farming. That legacy of hard work gave Larry a deep respect for agriculture. He studied horticulture, was active in FFA, and still enjoys the occasional success in his garden when he's not on stage.

From Farm Bureau conferences to co-op banquets, Larry brings laughter, motivation, and a message that speaks to everyone in the ag industry — farmers, ranchers, and ag professionals alike.

Ready to energize your next agriculture event? Invite Larry Weaver to deliver relatable humor and meaningful motivation your audience won't forget.
